

Collaboration: The key to serving priority populations

Marilyn King
Public Health Nurse,
MPH
Huron County Health
Unit Clinton, ON

Objectives

To learn:

- Community engagement is key
- Trust and respect are invaluable
- Identify community strengths and champions
- Collaboration is client centered care
- With support, issues can be addressed by communities
- Challenges and strategies with priority populations

The Population

Canadian Community Health
Nursing Standards of Practice

Building Relationships

Promoting health

Building individual and community capacity

Facilitating access and equity

Demonstrating professional responsibility and accountability

Conclusion